GALA EVENT

Will Be the Hibernian Field Day and Outing Next Saturday.

Portland and Limerick Will Contest For Honors on Field.

County Board and the Various Divisions Will Celebrate July 4.

GRAND FIREWORKS AT NIGHT

Louisville Hibernians are preparing for a great day on July 4. They expect to be decidedly patriotic and will commemmorate the Declaration of Independence and their love of Ireland at one and the same time. Gratitude is one of the greatest virtues of the Irish character and while they will assemble to play or witness Irish athletic games, they will not lose sight of the American anniversary. It was the United States that gave them and their forefathers liberty and homes. They will never forget it. And so to celebrate the feast of American Independence the four local divisions have arranged their annual field day and outing for next Saturday, and the White City will be the field of operations.

Irishmen who have come from Holy Head and Cork, from Dublin and Mayo, are all interested in the tug-of-war arranged between Tom Dolan's "Portland Pots" and John Hennessy's "Limerick Strong Men." Mr. Dolan is not ready to spring his athletes on the public, but President Hennessy announces his team as follows: Peter and William Luskey, John O'Donnell, Owen Devaney, John McDermett, Pat O'Donnell, Martin Joyce, John Holmes, Thomas Farrell, John Doolan, Pat Kenney and Michael Sheehan. "They are stalwart six-footers and the team that beats them will be welcome to the laurels," says President Hennessy.

Among the other field day events will be egg races for girls, potato races for boys, putting the shot, race for boys under twelve years and one for girls of the same age, throwing the hammer, 100 yard dash and a running hop, step and jump contest. Any one desiring to enter these contests should make their wishes known either to Capt. Thomas Dolan, 2127 Portland avenue, or to John J. Barry, at the office of the Kentucky Irish American.

When the moon crosses between the sun and the earth the sun rays are overshadowed for a brief period, but the sun keeps on shining just the same. Just so will it be with the Hibernian outing. The field day events will eclipse for a time the other attractions, but will by no means interfere with them. An excellent band in the dancing pavilion will furnish rhythmic measures for all who like to trip the light fantastic during the afternoon and evening. Besides there will be an additional attraction in the way of chariot races after the manner of the ancient Greeks and Romans. At night there will be a magnificent display of fireworks to add zest and enthusiasm to the day's festivities.

County President Murphy and his colleagues and committees from the four divisions have worked hard to make the day a success, and the price of admission, ten cents, ought to put it in the power of almost everybody in the Falls Cities to take in the outing. The divisions from Jeffersonville and New Albany are coming across the river in force, and the four local divisions have offered incentives to members to increase the sale of tickets. The indications are that the Fourth of July, 1908, will be an eventful day for Louisville Hibernians.

FILLED HALL.

The large hall at St. Xavier's College, Second and Broadway, was filled to overflowing Monday night when the college department held its commencement exercises. Not content with what they saw and heard Friday night, many of the parents and friends of pupils returned Monday evening to hear the final bout in the oratorical contest. None were disappointed. It was an enthrallment to be present, and reflects great credit on the Xavierian Brothers, who have been so faithful and painstaking in educating the Catholic youths of this city.

Robert T. Barry, who was also the valedictorian, won the Frank A. Geher medal in the oratorical contest. Before saying farewell to his classmates and teachers Mr. Barry delivered an oration on "Self-Made Men." He handled his subject in a masterful manner, his enunciation was excellent and his gestures were graceful. The judges of the contest awarded him the prize, but they had a hard time in picking the winner from such an aggregation of young orators.

After delivering his salutary address Charles E. Gaughan spoke on "The Poet Priest of the South." The other speakers and their subjects were John F. Sullivan, "Centennial Names;" Woodson P. Lee, "Religion and Science;" Joseph M. Hund, "The Power of the Catholic Press;" Henry Gauthier Hoertz, "Christian Democracy." Each of these young men acquitted himself admirably, and each had champions in the audience who thought he should have won the prize.

In the junior class Jerome Olszogluger was awarded a prize of $5 in gold for general merit. William G. Hume, of the class of 1893, delivered the annual address. The exercises closed with an instructive address by the Very Rev. Father Louis G. Deppen.

EARNEST WORKERS

Will Represent Mackin at Forthcoming Grand Council.

The election of delegates to the Grand Council of the Y. M. C. was the feature of paramount interest at the meeting of Mackin Council Tuesday night. The attendance was fair, considering the warm weather, and the following delegates were chosen: President Robert T. Burke, Thomas D. Cline, Frank Lanahan, John T. Kenny and Supreme Director James Schoenheit Sherman for Vice President, on the Republican ticket, the wise leaders in both parties have gotten down to practical mathematics. Both sides practically conceded that the Middle West is to be the battle ground. Kentucky will go back to the Democratic party and the "Solid South" of course. The Republicans of New York feel that the people of their State are disgusted with the Hughes regime and are not a bit sanguine about carrying the State for Taft, even with "Sunny Jim" Sherman as the Taft kate's tail.

President Burke presided throughout the meeting and the contests for delegates were spirited but friendly. The alternates chosen are Charles Rainey, Dan Weber, William M. Higgins, Edward Mackey and John Stewart.

Four members were reported on the sick list, and the council was grieved to learn that John Boland, who had been improving, suffered a relapse and was very ill. Two applications were received and the candidates elected. The Library Committee reported that three volumes of the Catholic Encyclopedia had been received and installed in the council's library. The matter of uniting the councils of Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana with the Kentucky jurisdiction was discussed at some length, but the project did not find favor. The matter was not definitely settled, however.

DOUBLE EVENT.

Confirmation and Dedication Combined at North Vernon.

St. Mary's church, North Vernon, Ind., was crowded to the doors last Sunday morning, when the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, auxiliary Bishop of Indianapolis, administered the sacrament of confirmation to a class of fifty boys and girls. During the ceremonies he was assisted by the Rev. Fathers Heersing, of Madison, and Joseph Ziegelmeyer, of St. Ann, Ind. After mass and confirmation the children were given a bountiful breakfast by the pastor, Rev. Father George Weidert, assisted by the ladies of the congregation. At the close of the feast Bishop O'Donoghue addressed the children on the subject of confirmation.

During the morning also Bishop O'Donoghue dedicated the handsome and commodious new parochial school building. More than 500 visitors from surrounding townships and counties were in attendance.

Excellent music was furnished by the St. C. Band of Madison and the North Vernon brass band. At the close of the dedicatory ceremonies Bishop O'Donoghue delivered a sermon on the general events of the day and the feast of Corpus Christi.

In the afternoon Hon. Thomas J. Mara, a prominent young attorney of Jennings county, Ind., delivered a lay address at the school house, in which he paid high tribute to the Catholics of Jennings county, and their achievements for the church.

VICTIM OF SAD ERROR.
Unusually pathetic were the circumstances surrounding the death of little Ethel May Sanders at her home, 2215 Griffiths avenue, on Saturday of last week. The little girl received her first holy communion on the previous Sunday, and before mass was over she fainted. Upon reaching her home the child's mother in a moment of excitement gave her a spoonful of carbolic acid, mistaking it for medicine. The mistake was not discovered in time. Physicians and friends did all possible to alleviate the child's suffering, but she succumbed to death on Saturday. The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Sanders, and was twelve years old. The funeral took place from St. Cecilia's church Monday morning.

WICKHAM EXONERATED.
Officer Con Wickham was entirely removed from criticism in the Police Court last Monday when arraigned for the killing of Luther Norwood. It was proven beyond a doubt that Norwood had sought trouble with Officer Wickham and that the latter fired in self-defense, and after he had been assaulted and knocked down. Wickham has been on the Louisville police force for a number of years and has a splendid record for peace and subdity.

HONOR FOR TARPEY.

Thomas W. Tarpey, a leading citizen and member of the Knights of Columbus, was honored this week by being placed on the committee of resolutions at the national convention of the Travelers' Protective Association at Milwaukee. The Kentucky delegation was unit on every proposition offered, and the election of Mr. Tarpey as the State's representative on such an important committee is a tribute to Louisville as well as the man.

After delivering his salutary address Charles E. Gaughan spoke on "The Poet Priest of the South." The other speakers and their subjects were John F. Sullivan, "Centennial Names;" Woodson P. Lee, "Religion and Science;" Joseph M. Hund, "The Power of the Catholic Press;" Henry Gauthier Hoertz, "Christian Democ-

FIGURES

Show How Certain States Can Change the Country's Policy.

Middle West Will Be the Main Battle Area in Coming Campaign.

Bryan Will Undoubtedly Be the Leader of the Democratic Hosts.

REPUBLICANS ARE LOSING HEART

Things are simmering down to a working basis in national politics, and since the nomination of William Howard Taft for President, and James Schoenheit Sherman for Vice President, on the Republican ticket, the wise leaders in both parties have gotten down to practical mathematics. Both sides practically conceded that the Middle West is to be the battle ground. Kentucky will go back to the Democratic party and the "Solid South" of course. The Republicans of New York feel that the people of their State are disgusted with the Hughes regime and are not a bit sanguine about carrying the State for Taft, even with "Sunny Jim" Sherman as the Taft kate's tail.

In 1904 there were 476 votes by the Electoral College; but the admission of Oklahoma as a State increased this to 482. This will permit 212 to elect. In the States of the Middle West Indiana has fifteen votes, Illinois, twenty-seven; Michigan, fourteen; Minnesota, eleven; Nebraska, eight; Kansas, ten; Wisconsin and Iowa, each thirteen; total 111. Each of these States have a grievance against the Republican party. Fairbanks, Indiana's candidate for the Presidential nomination, was run over by Chancieur Hitehook. Cummins, of Iowa, who aspired to the Vice Presidential nomination, got a side swipe that settled his aspirations; Illinois wanted Cannon, but his adherents were canonized. Nebraska will go solidly for Bryan. In fact each of these eight States have a grievance, and in the aggregate hold the balance of power.

In the electoral college of 1904 there were 336 votes, including the above 111 cast for Theodore Roosevelt, and 140 for William Jennings Bryan. Take the 111 from Taft this year and give them to the Democratic nominee and he will have 241. Then add the seven new votes from Oklahoma and he will have 248, or six more than is necessary to elect. Besides there is no telling what may happen in New York.

It is almost as certain as human foreasts can make it that Bryan will be nominated by the Democratic national convention which will assemble at Denver July 7. A good live running mate from the Middle West is what the Democratic managers are looking for. John Mitchell, former President of the United Mine Workers, and the ablest labor leader in America, might have had the Democratic nomination for Governor of Illinois; he might also have had the nomination for Vice President. Mr. Mitchell has declined the gubernatorial nomination on the ground that he is not much of a politician. Mr. Mitchell has a position in Chicago that will pay him $6,000 a year, and his health will not prevent him entering long and vigorous campaign. A good man from Kansas, Minnesota, Indiana or Wisconsin would add strength to the ticket headed by William Jennings Bryan.

Already there is alarm in the Republican camp, and Sherman's record in Congress is being attacked both in the House and in other States. N. B. Scott, of West Virginia, who has served twelve years as National Committeeman from that State, has signified his intention of withdrawing, and gives as a reason: "I have been through three successful campaigns and I do not want to have my record broken."

DINNER-DANCE.

Mackin Council Shows Its Gratitude For Past Favors.

As a slight token of appreciation, Mackin Council entertained the members of its Choral Club with a dinner and dance at the Galt House from 8 o'clock until midnight Thursday night. The entire chorus as well as the principals who took part in the operetta, "A Mile From Tova," enjoyed the fete. The menu was conducted in accordance with Manager Shaughnessy's best style, and the music was declared to be "the best ever" by the young folks who took part in the terpsichorean festivities.

Messrs. Charles S. Brady, James T. Shelley, Louis J. Klefer, and Mrs. D. Cline constituted the committee that had the affair in charge, and none of the Choral Club were disappointed with the arrangements. The young men and women who compose the club gave their time, and that progressive body of young Catholic men and women did Mackin Council's benefit, and that progressive body of young Catholics took an early opportunity of showing its gratitude.

Mrs. Edward J. McNally and little daughter have joined Mr. McNally, who is now general manager of the Oseola Club, the wealthiest and most exclusive social organization in Pensacola, Fla. Mr. McNally is well and favorably known in this city. He was for several years in the service of the Louisville Hotel, and later Superintendent of the dining car service for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company. His old friends in Louisville will be pleased to learn that Mr. McNally's health has improved wonderfully since he went to Pensacola.

CLOSE OF YEAR

Brought Many Visitors to St. Catherine's Academy's Exercises.

The beautiful grounds and handsome new buildings of the Academy of St. Catherine of Sienna, near Springfield, Ky., looked more beautiful than ever Tuesday of last week on the occasion of the eighty-sixth annual commencement exercises of that institution. The grounds, corridors and halls were alive with pupils, parents, members of the alumini and the sweet voiced Sisters of St. Dominic.

The exercises did not begin until the visitors from Louisville and other way points arrived between 3 and 4 o'clock. The programme was just long enough to give on a desire for more. Tiresome essays were avoided and in their stead vocal and instrumental solos and choruses, tablums and a pleasing and edifying little drama were substituted. Interspersed with the other numbers were selections by the academy orchestra. The orchestra was composed of violins, violin-cello, violas, mandolins, trombone, cornets, harp, drums and piano. The musicians were Misses Plety and Marie Barber, Mary Byers, Marie Blenkampen, Luella Bannon, Helen Jones, Katherine Newell, Nellie McGill, Sadie Parratt, Margaret Davis, Mary Curran, Corinne Mahoney, Helen Baker, Nellie McAffie, Julia Goodin, Geneva Sullivan, Alice Peatree and Louise Barber.

"The Christians Under Trajan" was the title of the drama, and depicted a little story of early Christian times. The actors were Misses Louise Gill, Emily Talbot, Plety Barber, Helen Jones, Gladys Randall and Marie Barber. Every number on the programme was pleasing and received its share of applause. After the conferring of degrees the exercises closed with the vocal chorus, "Ave Maris," by the senior vocal class.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mrs. Sabina Duffy died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas K. Hines, 1910 West Madison street, Tuesday evening, and the remains were sent to Indianapolis for interment.

Mr. and Mrs. John Devane, of 2411 Magazine street, have the sympathy of many friends on account of the death of their infant daughter Margaret last Monday. The little one was only ten months old, but had won the love of all around her. The hearts of her sorrowing parents.

Edward J. Dalton, the fourteen-year-old son of Mrs. Julia Dalton, died at the family residence, 2745 West Chestnut street, last Wednesday. The little fellow was bright and intelligent for his years. Dread tuberculosis was responsible for his death. The funeral took place from St. Mary's church on Wednesday morning and was largely attended. Mrs. Zahner was one of the best known German-American ladies in Louisville and was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends.

Mrs. Josephine Zahner, sixty-four years old, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Bolster, 1647 Everett avenue, Monday night. Her husband, L. F. Zahner, manager of the Vogel Shoe Company, her daughter, Mrs. Bolster, and one son, Joseph Zahner, survive to mourn her death. The funeral took place from St. Mary's church on Wednesday morning and was largely attended. Mrs. Zahner was one of the best known German-American ladies in Louisville and was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends.

William P. Lawler, a former resident of this city, died in Cincinnati last Friday. He had been ill of pneumonia and on Thursday his brother, Hugh Lawler, and his nephew, Capt. Thomas Fitzgibbons, visited him in Cincinnati. He was considered much improved and his relatives returned to Louisville. They had hardly reached the city when the telegram announcing Mr. Lawler's death was received. The remains were brought to Louisville, and reposed at the home of Mrs. Rose Lawler, a sister-in-law, 1217 West Jefferson street, until the funeral took place from St. Patrick's church Sunday afternoon.

The funeral of Christopher O'Connor, who died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Thomas S. Leahy, 1910 Floyd street, Thursday afternoon of last week, took place from St. John's church Saturday morning. The deceased had been suffering from a complication of diseases for several weeks, and his death was not unexpected. Mr. O'Connor was forty-two years old, and was a son of the late William O'Connor, who at one time represented the Fourth ward in the General Council. Chris O'Connor, as he was best known, was for many years an employee of the City Engineer's office, was a competent engineer and well liked. Four sisters survive him, Mrs. Thomas B. Leahy, Miss Marcella O'Connor, of Louisville, and Mrs. Daniel McCarthy, of Sandusky, Ohio.

ROAD TO RECOVERY.

Joseph C. Kirchdorfer, a popular member of Trinity Council, is a very nimous parent these days. Two of his sons, Joseph, Jr., aged twelve years, and Raymond, eight years old, were operated on at St. Anthony's Hospital for appendicitis during the week and are now resting comfortably as possible under the circumstances. It is believed that both children are out of danger.

BUNCOED.

Unionist Fathers Worked Old Time Game on the Catholics.

Monaghan and Armagh Have Been Throw Down Hard.

Ex-Grand Master of the Ulster Orange Grand Lodge and Co-option.

CATHOLICS LOSE OUT AGAIN

The question of political as well as religious tolerance is still ripe in the North of Ireland. Apropos of this feature of Irish politics, the editor of the Dundalk Democrat in his latest editorial remarks:

"The meetings of the Monaghan and Armagh Councils this week provide a useful lesson on the word 'Tolerance' as understood by different people in this country. We Nationalists are constantly being lectured on our want of tolerance; and one of the chief Unionist arguments against home rule is that under a National Government the minority would not only be outvoted and ignored, but would be crushed out altogether! As an answer to this argument we are frequently called on to give proof of our tolerance by electing Unionists to represent Nationalist constituencies, and in local elections we occasionally do so, to confound the enemy. But how about Unionist tolerance?

"At the annual meeting of the Monaghan County Council the Nationalist Chairman, Mr. Toal, proposed the co-option of Lord Rossmore, and the motion was unanimously adopted by a Council exclusively Catholic. We don't know exactly what Lord Rossmore's present political views are. We know he has with matured years abated a great deal; but he is at all events a landlord, a Protestant, and a Unionist. That he is personally deserving of the compliment paid him by the Nationalist Chairman and Council of County Monaghan we have every reason to believe. And for a proof of National tolerance we need not go further than this co-option of the ex-grand master of the Orange Order by the Ulster Nationalists and Catholics.

"Turn now to County Armagh. On the County Council there are but eight Nationalists to twenty-two Unionists, though very nearly half the population of the county is Catholic. At the annual meeting of the County Council the eight Nationalists suggested that one of the co-options should be given to their party, and put forward the name of Mr. McGarvey, who was defeated by a small majority in Newtownhamilton. Mr. E. Nugent, who proposed Mr. McGarvey, was able to point to the example given by the Newry No. 2 Rural Council, of which he is Chairman. This Nationalist body co-opted last week two Unionists, and elected a Unionist Vice Chairman. But did this example move the Unionist bigots of Armagh County Council to do likewise? No; one Unionist only voted with the Nationalists for Mr. McGarvey, and so the overwhelming Unionist majority on the Council was further added to.

"We do not refer to this for the purpose of deterring Nationalists bodies from exhibiting tolerance in such matters; but we say that if there is to be tolerance it must be all-round tolerance. We must have tolerance shown to the Catholice minorities in Ulster, and then we will exhibit a like spirit to the separated Unionists in Nationalist districts, and agree to bury the hatchet. A treaty to which only one party subscribes is not at all likely to promote peace or concord."

GROVER CLEVELAND'S DEATH.

From Princeton, N. J., on Wednesday came the news that Grover Cleveland, twice President of the United States, had died suddenly. From one end of the country to the other the news was flashed, and there was not an American in the whole country who did not express sorrow. They sorrowed, not because he was a Democrat or a Republican, but because he had been an illustrious American, because he had twice served the country in the highest office the people of America could give him; because he arose from the ranks of the workers and had a mind and will of his own. With the names of Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Monroe, Lincoln and Garfield the name of Cleveland will be embalmed in the hearts of patriots and will be embalmed on the pages of United States history.

Grover Cleveland was born in Essex county, New Jersey, in 1837. His parents were able to give him an academic education, and at the age of twenty-two he was admitted to practice at the bar in Buffalo. He was active in Democratic politics, and in 1870 his party elected him Sheriff of Erie county. Eleven years later he was chosen Mayor of Buffalo, and the next year was nominated and elected Governor of New York by an united Democratic party. Only two years elapsed before he was elected President of the United States, the greatest political honor that any man could wish. Four years later he was again the nominee of the Democratic party for President, and was defeated. He accepted the nomination a third time in 1892, and led the Democratic hosts to victory. Within forty years Grover Cleveland has been the only Democratic President of the United States. Though elected as a moderate, he was fair to all parties during both of his terms as President. After his retirement in 1897 he devoted active politics and took residence at Princeton.

On June 2, 1886, he married Miss Frances Folsom, the sorrowing widow who survives him. She, with three children, none of whom have reached maturity, survive him. To Mrs. Cleveland and her children the sympathy of the entire nation is extended. Though one might differ from him in political matters, his opinions were always respected. His regard for law and order, for the supremacy of the people's will, and for the exaltation of the American flag will make his name renowned in the history of the United States.

PARENTAL RESPONSIBILITY.

The school season is over for the next two months, and tired teachers have been relieved of the responsibility of watching over their young charges. Not so with parents. The responsibility of fathers and mothers seems to be increased tenfold during the vacation season.

The child feels that release from school is a release from every restraint, and too often parents are prone to encourage the children, even those of tender years. Parents ought to know where their children are every hour in the day and every minute in the hour.

Many of these youngsters, too soon imbued with the American spirit of independence, venture alone on street cars, steam cars, hop wagons, seek a place to swim, even if they never swim a stroke before. So it is with the children care caught about, the depth nor the current. The result is that many homes are made sorrowful by sudden drownings and other accidents to life and limb. Often a little more care would have prevented a great deal of sorrow and loss of life. Even the young men entering on manhood are prone to risk their lives in the unknown creeks and pools. Last Saturday, for instance, two Louisville families were prostrated by the deaths of young men twenty years of age. One was William Grinstead Kinkead, son of Judge Robert C. Kinkead, the Republican nominee for Congress from this district. Young Kinkead had recently graduated from the Manual Training High School, and was a sturdy, manly young man. He was held in high esteem by his teachers and classmates, and his shocking death plunged his family in grief. The other victim was John Hildebrand, a young neophyte whose home was on Wenzel street. He worked until noon Saturday and then went to the treacherous Ohio river for a plunge. His companions warned him, but he thought he knew his strength. All before they knew it the youth was swept away and drowned. There he lay but sympathy for the district in Congress for several terms. He is the Chairman of the Republican Committee in the House of Representatives. In private life he is President of a trust company. Mr. Sherman had practically no opposition for the nomination for Vice President. He is alleged to have a barrel of money. This recalls the time when Levi P. Morton, another man with a barrel, was the tail of the Republican political kite.

SOUVENIR EDITION.

Next Saturday the Kentucky Irish American will be ten years old, and it feels that it is getting to be a big boy now. To celebrate its decade a special issue will be published. It is the desire of its publishers to make the next issue the best in the history of the paper, both from a news and advertising standpoint. Our soliciting agents have not had time to call upon all the advertisers, and lest some should feel they had been overlooked we make this announcement. An advertisement in the Kentucky Irish American will increase your trade. If our agents have failed to call on you it has been from lack of time. You can place your "ad" by calling at this office, 335 West Green street, not later than Thursday afternoon.

Another cause for anxiety at this season is the indiscriminate use of revolvers, blank pistols and gun powder. Many children feel that they have not celebrated July 4 unless they are fooling with dangerous weapons. Read the papers on the morning of July 5 and you will find scores of accidents reported from every State in the Union. Once again we advise parents to be more cautious with their children during the coming weeks of vacation.

ABUSIVE BLACKGUARD.

"Rev." Dr. P. A. Baker, Superintendent of the National Anti-Saloon League, came all the way from his home at Columbus, Ohio, to roast Louisville, to roast the State and the representative citizens of the city and State. He delivered his tirade of abuse before the International Sunday-school convention held in this city last Sunday. Refined people do not like blackguardism in private conversation or public speech, and they abhor it when it comes from the rostrum or pulpit. Louisville has many refined people, and one may be sure that few of our citizens applauded the blackguardism of Dr. Baker. The applauders were people from other States.

"Poor, saturated, soaked, run riden Louisvill," was the way he referred to this city. He came as a guest of these citizens and then chose to insult them and their intelligence in their own house as it were. The delegates to this big Sunday-school convention have been well treated from start to finish. They have enjoyed the hospitality of people allied with them in their religious belief, and of people who differed from them. And yet when Dr. Baker denounced Senator-elect William O. Bradley, and Thomas M. Gilmore, and Congressman Swagar Sherley, and the last Kentucky Legislature, he was applauded. Dr. Baker showed clearly that he knew nothing of these Kentucky affairs when he made vile abuse his only weapon.

He even opened his batteries of filth on the daily papers, but said in extenuation that he would be outside their circulation before they had a chance to get back at him. Dr. Baker's whole effort appeared to be made for the purpose of getting a little cheap notoriety. The refined people who were delegates to the Sunday-school convention repudiate his abuse and condemn his bad manners.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Popular Patrolman Fell
Victim to Heart Trouble.

The funeral of Officer Edward Dalton, who died at his home, 425 East Chestnut street, Saturday afternoon, took place Monday morning, a long cortège following the remains to their last resting place. The pall bearers were chosen from among his intimate friends on the police force, and were Capt. Edward Bright, John Moran, John Hepp, Jerry Quill, Thoms Dunn, John McCue, Ed Fulford, George Gay, Lawrence Dunford, Jerry O'Leary and Edward McGrath. Mr. Dalton was born in Louisville thirty-eight years ago, and had been a member of the police force during the past ten years. He was big of frame and honest, always good-natured and attentive to duty. He was taken ill on Thursday and sank rapidly after a severe attack of heart trouble on the following day. The end came with shocking suddenness to his family and friends. The deceased never married, but made his home with his father and sisters. His aged father is John Dalton and the sisters are Mrs. Minnie Von Buskirk and Miss Katie A. Dalton.

JUST WAITING.

Jeffersonville Knights Are Anxious to Establish Council.

A new council of the Knights of Columbus will be established at Jeffersonville, Ind., on Sunday, July 28. Raymond Stanton, Barney Coll and others have been members of Louisville Council for several years. They know the advantages afforded by the Knights of Columbus and worked up a sentiment in favor of the organization in Jeffersonville. The result is that Evansville, New Albany, Louisville, Rushville and other towns will be represented a week from tomorrow.

The candidates and visiting Knights will assemble at the Elks Hall at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning. Thence they will proceed to St. Augustine's church, where Father O'Connell will celebrate high mass. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father Walter J. Cronin, of Rushville, Ind., and the conferring of the three degrees will begin at 1:30 p.m. Louisville Council will confer the first and second degrees, while a team from Evansville will confer the third degree.

At the banquet that will follow in the evening the speakers will be Hon. E. J. McDermott, Judge Matt O'Doherty and the Rev. Father Walter J. Cronin.

GLENN-WEITZEL

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Glenn, of Frankfort, Ky., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Agnes, to Oliver Bradley Weitzel, a rising young business man of Kentucky's capital. The ceremony will be performed at the church of the Good Shepherd on the morning of Wednesday, June 24. The Rev. Father Thomas S. Major will officiate, and will be assisted by the Rev. Father John J. O'Neill, of Lexington. Nuptial high mass will follow the ceremony. Miss Glenn has been much admired in Frankfort society circles, and the news of her marriage was received with great interest. Mr. Weitzel is receiving many congratulations on winning such a charming bride.

RESTORED TO HEALTH.

Miss Mary Sheridan, who was taken dangerously ill while attending the Supreme convention of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America at Kansas City, and whose condition was not much improved for some time after she returned home, is now fully restored to health. She was able to be out this week, and received the congratulations of her numerous friends.

WON SCHOLARSHIP MEDAL.

Miss Alice Terstegge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Terstegge, of New Albany, was awarded the scholarship medal at the annual commencement exercises of St. Mary's-of-the-Woods, near Terre Haute, Ind. The honors and closing address were delivered by the Right Rev. Silas Francis Châtard, Bishop of Indianapolis last Tuesday.

NEW RITUAL ENDORSED.

Trinity Council exemplified the new ritual of the Y. M. C. on a class of twenty candidates Monday night. The attendance was large, and the new work was heartily endorsed by the older members and the embryo Y. M. C. President Kelly occupied the chair, and heard encouraging reports from the various committees. Three applications were received.

MAKING IMPROVEMENTS.

Dougherty &amp; Lanning, the well known firm of funeral directors, are completing extensive improvements at their establishment, 1231 West Market street. When the work is completed there will be a new office, two-story chapel and all modern improvements.

Will Celebrate Both Today and One Week From Today.

The Louisville letter carriers will have their annual outing at the White City on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, June 27, and invite the public to join them and help to make the occasion an enjoyable one. Whatever funds necessary will be devoted to the relief of sick and disabled carriers, a worthy and commendable cause. The letter carriers come into contact daily with more people than any other employees of the Government, and as a rule they are held in high esteem by those whom they serve.

The committee in charge is made up as follows: Louis W. Borntraeger, Chairman; Frank Caldwell, Charles Ulmer, Dan Cummins, Edward Roebuck, Joseph Aschermann, William Davis, Charles Carothers, John Johnson, Henry Zillie, James Barry, Caesar Herlo, Henry Stewart and Fred Warkins.

Today is known as Postoffice day at the White City because the clerks from the local Postoffice are holding their annual outing there. It ought to be a pleasure for Louisville people who use the public to encourage these people who serve them so faithfully. A good time is assured those who attend the White City today and next Saturday.

NOTED ATHLETES

Will Have Share in the Celebration of the Pope's Jubilee.

Pope Pius X. will celebrate his sacerdotal jubilee in September. His Holiness can not visit London, Paris, Athens or New York, and he must postpone let the healthful attractions of the whole world come to him. This is his jubilee year, but the real jubilee ceremonies will take place at the Vatican in September. While these ceremonies will be essentially of a religious nature, there will be other features.

Our Holy Father believes in the maxim of a sound mind in a sound body, and to that end, has expressed a wish to see some of the noted athletes of the world. A wish from the Pope is practically a command, and his ecclesiastical subordinates have arranged to have a series of performances in the Vatican Gardens. The athletes of all Catholic countries will be there in full force. The Gaelic Athletic Association of Ireland has arranged to send representatives, and the Flannigans, Duffy's and Sheridans of the United States will send their quota.

DOUBLE HEADER.

Although the Louisville team has gone abroad, Eclipse Park will not be deserted tomorrow. The Fox Ridge team and the Satellite Juniors, two of the best amateur organizations in the city, will cross bats in a double header. During the present season neither of these teams have lost a game, and the crowd promises to be immense. Kimbel, the High School crack pitcher, and Johnson, Mammoth's star, will do slab work for Fox Ridge, while Ashby and Orendorff will take care of that end for the opposing nine. The first game will be called at 2 o'clock and the second game immediately after the first game is concluded.

COLONELS ARE AWAY.

The Louisville baseball club left Wednesday night for another tour, and no more professional ball will be seen here until July 3. Manager Jimmy Burke predicted before he left that the Colonels would win at least half the games played abroad, would try to win them all, and that he would be neither surprised nor sorry if they won 75 per cent. of them. Meanwhile Louisville fans are anxiously scanning score boards and foretelling the day when Tom Barker will have organized a sure enough National League that will take in every section of the country from Maine to California and Wisconsin to Florida.

WILL CRUSH A VISITOR.

Will Crush, a former Louisville boy and an alumnus of St. Xavier's College, spent several days in Louisville this week with his mother, brothers and sisters. Mrs. Crush had preceded him to Louisville. Mr. Crush is the General Passenger Agent of the Missouri, Kansas &amp; Texas railroad, and makes his headquarters in Texas.

FOR WORTHY CAUSES.

The Organ Fund Society of St. Augustine's church in Jeffersonville has arranged to give an excursion and picnic at Fern Grove on July 23, and the indications are that it may be necessary to engage two boats. Already many tickets have been sold.

SEEKING BETTER HEALTH.

The Rev. Father James Cusack, recently transferred from Paris and made pastor of St. Patrick's church at Covington, has been granted leave of absence on account of ill health. He is now sojourning in the West, where it is hoped he will soon recover.

HOPKINS THEATER.

Cool weather helped to bring additional crowds to Hopkins Theater this week, and none who witnessed the motion pictures were disappointed. Manager Dusty promises even a better bill for next week.

SIXTY YEARS IN ORDER.

NEW IDEA

Seems to Find Favor With Delegates to Central Committee.

The Central Committee of the C. K. of A. met in St. Mary's Hall on Friday night of last week. In the absence of President Joseph P. McGinn, William T. Meehan was called to the chair, while Harry Veeneman was chosen to fill the post of Secretary. The attendance was good, and the committee in charge of the military encue and dance at Phoenix Hill Park on the previous Tuesday night reported that a good crowd was in attendance, that the encue games were contested in a spirited manner, and that the dance was a most interesting feature. The committee expects to make a complete report at the next meeting, when all the branches will have been heard from.

Attorney Newton G. Rogers, former President of the Central Committee, was given a splendid welcome when he appeared, and during the course of the evening was invited to address the delegates. He expressed his interest in the order, and extolled the good work done by the Catholic Knights of America in all their undertakings. He urged all to work for the good of the order, and made a suggestion that put many of the delegates to thinking. Mr. Rogers' idea is to form a Catholic benevolent league, an organization similar to some of the German Catholic organizations, one that will pay sick and death benefits, and when there was an accumulation of funds to help out reliable and thrifty members who were desirous of building homes, and could furnish the proper security. An organization of this kind, said the speaker, would advance the material and spiritual welfare of the members and make each individual a hardworking factor. The organization itself would form a body from which new members would be attracted to join the C. K. of A. Mr. Rogers' address was well received and heartily applauded.

FIVE DELEGATES

To the Grand Council Are to Be Chosen by Macklin.

Macklin Council met Wednesday instead of Tuesday this week on account of the Y. M. I. outing. President Robert T. Burke presided, and the attendance was fair. Anthony Mengher and Virgil Bohn, who were on the sick list, were reported as much improved. The council accepted an invitation to attend the outing of the Ladies' Auxiliary next Monday, and Macklin will be well represented on that occasion.

Charles S. Ralby, in behalf of the committee that had the joint outing in charge, reported that the members of his committee were well satisfied with the result of Tuesday's event, and desired to return thanks to Macklin's members for the part they played in making it a success. President Burke reiterated his request for a full attendance of the council next Tuesday night, when delegates are to be elected to the forthcoming grand council. Other matters of importance will be discussed on the same evening.

J. B. ATKINSON DEAD.

Joseph B. Atkinson, for twenty-eight years a member of the Louisville School Board, died at his home, 2605 West Jefferson street, Monday afternoon, after an illness extending over sixteen months. Mr. Atkinson was born in Louisville fifty years ago and had resided in this city all his life. When quite a young man he was engaged in the painting contracting business, which he carried on very successfully, and later embarked in trade as a wholesale dealer in paints and oils. Throughout his long career as a School Trustee he was never beaten, even when his colleagues were defeated by Republicans all over the city. He was always a friend to the Irish and Catholics and frequently fought their battles against overwhelming odds. The deceased is survived by his wife and four sons, William J., Thomas P. and Edward C. of this city, and Charles W. Atkinson, of Columbia, Tenn. The funeral services were held at his family residence Wednesday afternoon.

Y. M. I. DAY SUCCESS.

Y. M. I. day at the White City Tuesday was a success, although the weather was cool and unseasonable for June. Macklin and Trinity Councils of Louisville and Unity of New Albany met with each other in attracting their friends to the park and then showed them a good time. The evening was delightful for dancing and those who delight in terpsichorean exercises filled the

KNIGHTS' OUTING.

FOLLOWERS OF COLUMBUS TO SPEND DAY AT NEW HAVEN.

Although the date has not been settled upon, it is practically settled that Louisville Council, Knights of Columbus, will hold its annual outing at New Haven on July 20 and 21. But Louisville Council will not be alone—Bardstown and Lebanon Councils will enjoy the outing with them, and in all probability
New Albany and Jeffersonville
Knights will follow suit.

The outing will be had in a grove on the outskirts of New Haven, one of the most beautiful spots in Nelson county. It is particularly fitting that the Knights and their families should seek a place of recreation in historic old Nelson county, the cradle of Catholicity in Kentucky and the West. Although New Haven has no council of its own, many of its citizens are affiliated with Louisville and Bardstown councils, and the entire population will turn out to welcome the visitors on the occasion of the outing.

Y. M. I. DAY SUCCESS.

Y. M. I. day at the White City Tuesday was a success, although the weather was cool and unseasonable for June. Macklin and Trinity Councils of Louisville and Unity of New Albany met with each other in attracting their friends to the park and then showed them a good time.
The evening was delightful for dancing and those who delight in terpsichorean exercises filled the
